

New Directions Transitional Housing Program

CASA DE AMPARO

Casa de Amparo was founded as a non-profit organization in 1978 by a small group of local women concerned about domestic violence and the welfare of children.

Today, we continue to expand by supporting each Casa Kid's individual and changing needs through all their stages of life. As a non-profit organization, we are recognized as a major force in the treatment and prevention of child abuse and neglect.

NEW DIRECTIONS CAMPUS

Our campus holds offices for New Directions staff and allows a safe space for young adults currently in or emancipated from the foster care or probation system ages 18-25 to get the resources they need to continue to live healthy and happy lifestyles.

At New Directions, participants have access to subsidized housing and Case Managers that help them become self-sufficient.

CASA APARTMENT LIVING

Our New Directions program gives our young adults access to subsidized housing. Casa rents out apartments within North San Diego County, allowing our young adults to begin building a support system on their own.

As part of the program, participants are required to either be working, going to school, volunteering, interning, or removing barriers (mental health or substance abuse treatment) equating to full-time productivity.

In exchange, Casa provides a fully furnished and cozy two bedroom apartment at a subsidized rent amount.

LIFE PLANNING PROGRAMS

Each participant is paired with an Advocate who will help them along their journey through the New Directions program.

Our Advocates help participants become self-sufficient with employment, education, career planning, and money management. Additionally, Advocates can provide participants transportation, financial support through support funds, and relationship mediation as needed. Overall, our Advocates support our New Directions participant's medical and mental health.

ART GROUP

Once a week, we invite an artist onto our campus to work with our young adults.

Art is a perfect way for our participants to connect with their emotions through art instead of coming up with words that they may not have had in the first place. Our young people are encouraged to use all different mediums to express the way they feel.

“I was able to come to a place every day after work and school that I called home, for the first time in a long time. Casa de Amparo gave me stability, security and made me feel like I actually belonged somewhere. They embedded budgeting and life skills in me that I didn’t get to learn from my parents or anyone else.”

SUPPORT FUNDS

Given that many of our young people do not have financial support through their support system, New Directions provides support funds as needed for our young people to succeed in school and work. Some common support funds we supply are as follows; work boots/shoes, medical scrubs, school supplies, interview clothes, school fees, and study materials.

FOOD PANTRY

Food insecurity can be a source of great stress for some of our young people who are just starting to live on their own. To combat this barrier, New Directions has an industrial-sized fridge and a food pantry available to our participants daily. Currently, New Directions receives weekly food donations to replenish our food and beverage items.

INDIVIDUALIZED CARE

Physical health is just as important as mental health. In all of our programs we stress the importance of taking care of our participants' mental health. As victims of abuse and neglect, it is important that our young people continue to nurture a happy and healthy mindset while building a life for themselves out in the world. New Directions staff collaborate weekly in what we call Treatment Team with a licensed therapist to discuss strategies and interventions in order to provide the highest quality of care and to meet the individual needs of each of our participants.

MONTHLY GROUPS

Each month, New Directions will have a guest speaker from a local community program give a presentation to our participants. Sometimes, our staff will present to our participants as well. Subjects include but are not limited to; healthy relationships, effective communication, coping skills, reproductive health, tenant rights, career planning, budgeting, and community resources available to them.

MISSION

To support those affected by and at risk of child abuse and neglect, through a range of programs and services that promote healing, growth, and healthy relationships.
